

Greg Pandelidis is an established versatile Australian actor. His diverse career includes performances in film, television and theatre – both internationally and nationally - and spans over 20 years. As a multitalented performer, his range is wide - with a unique ability to perform across all genres where both humor and courage are embedded.

Greg's career highlights include playing opposite Guy Pearce in Jack Irish Season 2, the lead in the Tropfest finalist short film and embodying the lead role university lecturer "John" in David Mamet's Oleanna, notorious businessman "Lawrence Garfinkle" in Other People's Money. Other notable shows he has made appearances in include Syfy US TV series Hunters, Utopia Season 1, Wilfred (2006), Neighbours, Blue Heelers, Wentworth, City Homicide, It's a Date, Canal Road, The Ex PM, Greeks on the Roof. Greg was one of few to represent Australia when he was awarded the prestigious summer intensive scholarship to train at the Atlantic Theater Company in New York in the summer of 2014.